

Aloha Transpac racers! After an exciting couple of days of multi and mono hull record breaking boats, we have a bit of calm here before a large portion of the fleet starts finishing in a couple days.

We've updated the quality of the tracking within 100NM of Honolulu. Individual boats within 100NM of Honolulu(not the rest of the fleet still racing) will appear "live" on a tracking viewer. Details have been provided on the Transpac 2017 Website.

For you still racing - at the top of the "links" page we handed out- where you download expedition, text files, etc., there is a choice of Transpac2017 or Live 100NM View. Direct link for 100NM live boats is:

Have a fast safe sail today.

Weather & Comments:

Zephyr: Partly cloudy, sea state moderate 1-2m swell, 075 15 knots, 1022mb More garbage... 2 back downs yesterday for ropes around + keel and saildrive.

 Rasin' Cane: as 3-4 feet, broken overcast with sun coming through, winds 085 degrees Magnetic at 12 knots, 1021.1 mb
 Nice sunrise though broken clouds. Tradewinds spinnaker sailing as per the advertising. Thanks to the RC and the TPYC for the event

 Creative: Wind 13 @ 60 Partly cloudy, gorgeous sunrise. 1-3' swell. We were treated to a drive by of a couple US Navy ships this morning

 Flying' Fiche: light clouds 2ft seas wind dir 70 and vel 18 kts, 1020 barometric excellent stake dinner with twice baked potatoes and creamed spinach cooked by the renowned reheater Brian

 Grand Illusion: NE 3-4, 100%, 070 @ 15, 1019.

Inspired by Varuna's report yesterday the venerable captain of Grand Ilusion took out his roll of tape and made his own marks on the backside of his crew. Promising a firm application of his foot to this location if performance did not improve. So far results have been promising!
